NOT THE QUESTION

Correspondents of "wet" sympathies keep on writing to the papers to show that the great men of past generations were drinkers. They seem to forget that fashion changes and that it would be useless for example to attempt to frown down short and stout shirts by showing that prodigal was inspired were worn over vast "hoops" during the War for Secession. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Record says that "these virtuous times" George Washington "would be termed a booze hoister and a rummy," and that the Prohibitionists would expect him to "beat his wife at 3:30 every afternoon, rob a bank at 4 and polish off with a murder before retiring at the end of a perfect day"—because the Father of his Country drank two glasses of wine in addition to beer at dinner and always offered his guests intoxicants. Pooh! That was nothing for those times. Think of Rev. Ezra Stiles, who, during his carriage journey of 11 days in 1798 to become president of Yale College, consumed—according to his own diary—"four and a half pints of rum, seven bowls of punch, two bowls of toddy, two plain liquors, two flaps, and twelve bottles of wine."

The opponents of prohibition can not get anywhere by searching the records to find out how much liquor was consumed by the great men of the past. That is not the question. The only question, if one remains, is whether the majority of the Americans of our time do or do not want a "dry" nation. Apparently they do, and if so that settles it. If they do not, if the majority has really not been heard from, as is contended, then let this actual majority find a way to express itself at the polls. Meanwhile law is law and must be obeyed.

THE SUBSTITUTE

On the first day of July, of the present Government order remains in force, 85,000 saloons will close in the United States, which means that practically 85,000 men's clubs will close their doors and over four million men, an army twice the size of the American army in France, will be turned away. And the question asked now is, where will they go.

This question is receiving a great deal of consideration at the present time, and possibly something in the way of a substitute may be evolved, by means of which the men who have heretofore frequented the saloon may find recreation and relaxation. Many of the leading sociological writers of the country have given the subject deep and earnest consideration, and many plans have been proposed in which the movies seem to be the most popular with community houses and suitable rooms conveniently located, well lighted and liberally supplied with reading matter and various games as a close second, then as an adjunct coffee and cocoa of good quality at cost, supplemented by some rolls. It is further proposed that all patrons be allowed to smoke as much as they want to, and bar no man unless he is quarrelsome or unnecessarily dirty.

Just what substitute will be found is a question. It looks as if the churches have a big job ahead of them. They were leaders in the movement to banish the saloon and now they should lend their efforts in providing the suitable substitute, by means of which the coming generations will be completely divorced from all temptations of strong drink.

"THE SPIRIT OF MEMORIALS"

As the spring blossoms into summer we feel, some of us, the absence of those dear ones who have passed to "the beyond." We miss their laughter, their kindnesses, their caresses. Ought we not give actual expression to the loving remembrance in which they are held?

The custom of marking their resting places is as old and as beautiful as the old, old world itself.

We cannot honor our loved ones more, nor perpetuate their memory more effectively, than by the erection of a monument. Properly carved, by a master artisan, such a memorial is a lasting tribute to our affection for them.

Is there not some one whose memory deserves this recognition from you?

Satisfy

The one thing you've always wished a cigarette would do—SATISFY.

Chesterfields do it. They touch the "smoke-spot." They let you know you're smoking. They satisfy.

Yet, they are mild!

That's some combination for a cigarette to "put across."

But Chesterfields do it!

It's the blend, a new blend of pure Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—and the blend can't be copied.

They Win You On Quality!

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or any unpleasant cigarette odor!

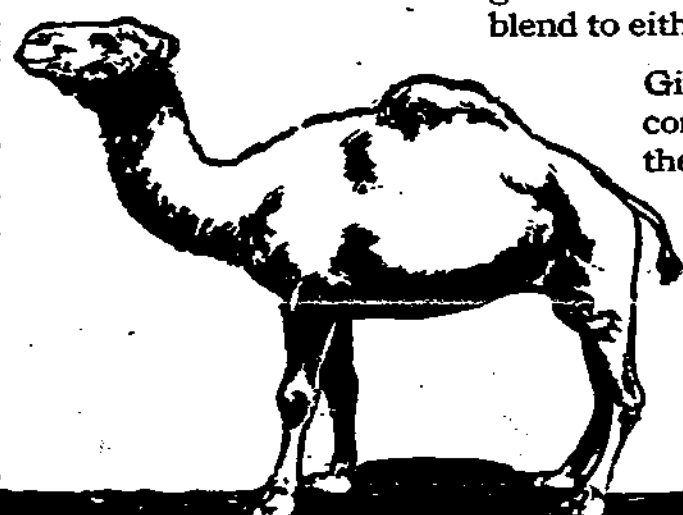

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

SUPPOSE—

Suppose you decide that as "the war is over," you will put all of your money into something other than the Victory Liberty Loan.

Just what will it mean?

Wounded men will lack care.
Cripples—who lost limbs and sight for you—will go through life struggling against terrible odds in their efforts to earn a living—and to live.

The U. S. Government will be unable to pay its honest war debts—the debts which made victory possible.

Industry will suffer.
Men and women will suffer;
And you—what about you?

Chicago talks it over with Seattle

Good morning, Western friend! How go those shingle mills these days? It's your good red cedar that covers so many house-tops here. And your oriental trade? Is it looking up? Smoke an Owl, won't you?

Thanks, replied Seattle, for the Owl—and other things. Thanks for your fine fresh meats. Thanks for your iron, your steel. And your railroads bring my ships many a fine cargo.

Great travelers, these two cigars, Owl and White Owl. Well known and well liked all over the old U. S. A. The reasons? Mellow fragrance and new dependability. You'll find pleasure in the proving.
